GOOD ADVICE ABOUT EARLY RISING.

Don't Overdo It When You Go to the Country and Make Yourself a Nuisance to Your Host-Hotel

(Correspondence of the Dispatch.)

AFTON, VA., August 19 .- Some bright man has said that "the world of letters was a world of Res." I have always thought the man who made that remark must have been an old bachelor who had just finished reading "Thrice Wedded," or "Married For Love," or some Other erotic fable of the affections. There is only one other thing he could have been, and that is a chronic dyspeptic; in which case he was, according to his lights (and liver) truthful. A chronic dyspeptic is, as we know, a pessimist in all things but nux vomica and lithia water.

HUMANITY IS INCREDULOUS. Humanity is incredulous. We are largely endowed with the same old Thomponian doubts, and hesitate to accept the effect without knowing the cause. In evidence, think of the marvellous fish stories so often told us in these days of summer outing. How with scorn and disbellef we cast a glance one way at the string of funny trophies presented by our carest and look beyond for the kink-ended darky scamping off with an empty basket-and a quarter. The fish are here, prima facie; but is it true that Tom or

John caught every one? Away down in our heart of hearts how many of us believe the George Washington hatchet story? We are callous enough to pause and consider, even to pause when the issue is the veracity of the im-

ABOUT EARLY RISING. here are many things in Holy Writ out telling the truth. Whether the perstual banishment depicted there is I know not. I do know that nothing could be more terrible than absolute truth in the world of literature, past, present, or to come.

"The early bird catches the worm," is a fallacy in proverbs that most of city ors believe is gospel truth-l. e., for Early rising is all very well, and, as a general thing, it is conceded that country people go early to bed and are early to rise. But from the time of the summer solstice, when our city guests and cousins come up to the still waters and reen pastures, we are shamed by their

Dance. (Correspondence of the Dispatch.)

WARRENTON, VA., August 18 .- There has been something to go to every night

this week. The Bevans started the ball by giving a beautiful dance on Monday evening. A large floor was laid out on the lawn, which was in excellent condition from constant applications of wax. Japanese lanterns of various and charming designs lit the platform and lawn with the softest, most becoming light. Old Weber, with two extra pieces, made the most enticing music, with selections from "The Idol's Eye" and "Black America.

Mr. and Mrs. Bevan, assisted by Mrs. Charrington, received the guests with charming ease and hospitality. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. George Stone, Mr. and Mrs. Portman, Mrs. Assheton, Dr. and Mrs. Carter, Mrs. Slater, Miss Brown, of Annapolis; Miss Elliott, of Washington; Miss Drewry, of Richmond; Misses Hicks, Charrington, Day, Stone, and Misses. #### Religious Meetings-The Crops-Per sonal and Political.

COMORN, KING GEORGE COUNTY, VA., August 20,-(Special.)-The Methodists and Baptists of the Northern Neck have had an unceasing religious feast from the 1st of August to the present time. The camp-meetings at the famous camp-grounds in the lower part of the Neck have been supplemented by revival meetings at nearly all the churches from the upper end of King George to the Chesapeake bay, and the interest still Chesapeake bay, and the interest some manifest indicates that services at some of the churches will run well into September. Information from the most reliable sources shows that the Eighth District Republicans will hardly succeed in in-ducing any one of their "big guns" to aclucing any one of their cept the congressional nomination and enter the field against Mr. Rixey. Others having declined, it seems most likely that Mr. William J. Rogers, of this county, will be asked to accept the nomination, but he will hardly consent to enter the race with defeat facing him. And it doesn't seem probable that he would re-gard a tender of the nomination as much of a compliment, when that tender is only after all the prominent party men have turned up their noses at it only when and because no one else will

VACANT CIRCUIT JUDGESHIP.

Action of the Alleghany Bar-Judge Anderson Mentioned.

COVINGTON, VA., August 20 .- (Special.) The news of the death of Hon. William McLaughlin, Judge of the Circuit Court of this county, reached here by telephone yesterday morning. It was a great shock to his many friends in this vicinity, and was the principal topic of conversa-tion on the streets to-day. The Circuit Court of this county, of which he was Judge, was to meet on Wednesday next, and for some time past the lawyers and nal have been busy preparing their cases It was not even known in the neighbor-hood that Judge McLaughlin was sick.

A meeting of the bar and officers of the courts of Alleghany county was held at the court-house yesterday afternoon at o'clock, for the purpose of taking action in regard to his death and funeral, Judge George K. Anderson was called to the chair, and Mr. J. J. Hobbs, clerk of the court, was appointed secretary. The obchairman, and thereupon eulogistic reso-lutions were unanimously adopted. There is considerable speculation as to who will be called on to fill the vacancy in the judgeship. It seems to be th ensus of opinion here, however, that the appointment of Judge George K. Ander on, of Clifton Forge, would be an emiently proper one. Should he ask the appointment he will receive the unanimous endorsement of the bar here.
